10. How critical is the program's mission or purpose to the department's mission as a whole? Include a description of the degree to which the program is critical to the department's mission.

☑ Program is directly related to department's primary mission and is critical to achieving the department's goals.

☐ Program is indirectly related to department's primary mission.

☐ Program plays a supporting role in achieving department's mission (i.e., budget, personnel, other admin functions).

Description: The RPB Operations Section is critical to the success of the RPB, and by extension, to the Authority's mission. Specifically, over the next 12-18 months the entire 520-mile Phase 1 system between San Francisco and Los Angeles/Anaheim will be environmentally cleared. This clearance will enable the Authority to advance design and develop pre-construction strategies for Right-of-Way acquisitions and utility relocations. These pre-construction activities are absolutely critical to the success of the related construction contracts and requires the RPB Operations Section to prepare and monitor budgets and contracts for all RPB activities, survey land, negotiate third party agreements with utilities, and conduct land conveyances of the thousands of complex industrial, residential, commercial, and railroad properties required to initiate the laying of track from San Francisco to Los Angeles/Anaheim. If these activities are not successfully performed, construction cannot begin or finish on time and within the capital budget. Further, as the Authority acquires more property across the 520-mile Phase 1 system, the Authority must be responsible for all property not undergoing construction, including urban and rural residential, commercial, and agricultural properties that require regular maintenance to ensure compliance with applicable laws and regulations, as well as to foster positive relationships with the public that are essential to community goodwill for the high-speed rail project.

Recognizing the criticality of this position to oversee RPB operations, the CEA position was approved by the Department of Finance as part of the State of California's Budget Act for Fiscal Year 2020-2021, "Form-to-Function" reorganization of the Authority. This "Form-to-Function" reduces the Authority's reliance on a consultant cadre and replaces them with state staff. As a result of this reorganization, this new CEA was established and will result in moving the project forward with greater state leadership and focus on property management, land conveyance, and negotiating agreements.
B. SUMMARY OF REQUEST (continued)

11. Describe what has changed that makes this request necessary. Explain how the change justifies the current request. Be specific and provide examples.

The Deputy Director of Real Property Operations is needed to replace a consultant deputy director position and ensure state oversight of expanding workload as the Authority moves toward right-of-way activities in new geographic segments of the high-speed rail system.

The Authority has been an "integrated project team" in which consultants and state staff work on integrated teams. Historically, the RPB had two positions that served as deputies over different areas of RPB - one that was a state employee and one that was a consultant. However, the Authority conducted an enterprise-wide review of positions to identify if consultants and state staff were performing the appropriate types of work to ensure proper oversight of consultant work. This "Form to Function" review resulted in the consultant deputy position in RPB being identified as more appropriately performed by a permanent state employee as the new Deputy Director of Real Property Operations. To that end, the Authority submitted a Budget Change Proposal (BCP) with the May Revision of the Fiscal Year (FY) 20-21 budget. The request included a transition from consultant resources to state staff for multiple positions. The BCP was approved as budgeted and was authorized with the enactment of the State of California's Budget Act for Fiscal Year 2020-2021. As a result, this position allocation is necessary for the Authority to implement the change required by the passage of the Act.

Additionally, workload is expanding in RPB operations and the role of the Deputy Director of Real Property Operations is more necessary than ever to ensure appropriate oversight and leadership as the Authority drives forward on preparing for construction in new geographic segments of the high-speed rail system. Five additional railway segments have been approved since 2021 to expand the high-speed rail system from the current 119 miles under construction in the Central Valley to nearly 400 miles of contiguous high-speed rail from San Jose to Palmdale. This additional mileage to the system will require the Deputy Director of Real Property Operations to establish high volumes of third party agreements, manage thousands of new properties, oversee potentially thousands of land rights conveyances, develop additional performance reports and oversight of a large increase in real property data, oversee a high volume of public interactions on issues related to right-of-way, and financial management of high volumes of right-of-way settlements and increased special funding.
C. ROLE IN POLICY INFLUENCE

12. Provide 3-5 specific examples of policy areas over which the CEA position will be the principle policy maker. Each example should cite a policy that would have an identifiable impact. Include a description of the statewide impact of the assigned program.

The Deputy Director of Real Property Operations is responsible for developing and implementing policies associated with property management, Third-Party agreements, land surveying, land rights conveyance, information systems and reporting, and RPB budgets and contracts.

Land Rights Conveyance - Formulate policies and implementation plans and procedures for those policies to ensure land conveyances are completed efficiently and timely to optimize construction schedules and mitigate costly risks of construction schedule impacts for current and future construction packages.

Real Property Information Systems & Reporting - Develop and implement policies governing data collection and the maintenance, monitoring, and reporting of that data to ensure accuracy, confidentiality, and timely organization of complex real property data that is critical to tracking actions necessary to plan and deliver right-of-way prior to commencing construction and to monitor for project schedule impacts.

Real Property Financial Management - Develop policies that govern the High Speed Rail Property Fund (9331) expenditures to ensure the fund is used in accordance with state statute and for the greatest benefit to the Authority.

14. Will the CEA position be developing and implementing new policy, or interpreting and implementing existing policy? How?

Further, the Deputy Director of Real Property Operations will interpret and implement existing policies relative to the RPB operations listed above to build over 800 miles of the high-speed rail system and to develop and inform management of multi-billion design build contracts.
