Equal Employment Opportunity Officer’s Guide for Monitoring Exam Qualifications Appraisal Panel Composition

The California Department of Human Resources (CalHR) sets forth the following guidelines to:

- Inform department Equal Employment Opportunity (EEO) Officers of available resources to monitor departmental examination Qualification Appraisal Panel (QAP) composition
- Encourage department EEO Officers to evaluate department workforce composition data and incorporate collaborative strategies to alleviate occurrences of selection bias

Introduction
Department EEO Officers are charged with an integral role in recruitment, examination and selection efforts to ensure state departments promote and effectuate diversity throughout the state’s civil service system (Gov. Code section 19797). Part of that role is to identify faulty or discriminatory human resource practices/policies that result in underrepresentation of certain groups in state civil service classifications, and institute corrective measures to achieve a fair and equitable selection process. The development and administration of civil service examinations are not only designed to identify the most qualified candidates but also lessen the potential of bias and discrimination in the qualifications appraisal process.

Mandate
Mandated by Government Code section 19795(a), all state agency EEO Officers are required to monitor the composition of oral panels in departmental examinations. A fundamental responsibility exists for state agencies to safeguard against practices that influence outcomes of oral interview examinations and to prevent discrimination against prospective candidates. When selecting panel members, consideration shall be given to individuals who represent the diversity of the state civil service workforce. (Cal. Code Regs. §195)

Statement
Each state agency’s EEO Officer is responsible to conduct monitoring and evaluation of all Qualifications Appraisal Panels (QAP). Should any issues of concern be identified, the EEO Officer shall make recommendations to the appointing power in order to bring the QAP process into compliance with department and state EEO goals.

What is a Qualifications Appraisal Panel?
California Code of Regulations section 80.4 defines a qualifications appraisal interview to mean “a civil service examination that is given as an oral examination or oral interview by a Qualifications Appraisal Panel.” (Emphasis added.) For purposes of these guidelines, QAP pertains to the examination administration process only.
A QAP interview is a type of examination format used to establish a candidate’s list eligibility for hiring purposes.

The QAP panel is a group of qualified individuals (no less than two) that conducts civil service oral examinations in an interview-type setting. QAPs are guided by a certified Chairperson who oversees the administration process. Much like hiring interviews, panel members ask candidates predetermined, job-related questions sufficient to fairly test and determine qualifications and abilities of competitors. The QAP interview is recorded. Candidate responses are documented and scored by the panel. Candidates that receive a score of 70% or higher are ranked and placed on an eligibility list used for hiring. Candidates of Career Executive Assignment examinations may be tested by QAP and appointed based on successful results of the interview.

Note: While the mandate only applies to examination panel composition, departments are encouraged to create best practices to monitor and evaluate the effectiveness of hiring interview panels as well.

What is a Diverse Panel?
A diverse QAP panel typifies the range of individuals that represent the unique cultural differences, life experiences, backgrounds, and workplace competencies throughout the state’s workforce. Departments are encouraged to plan QAP panels that embody the state’s diversity at all levels and support the power and creativity brought about by such a wide-ranging labor force. (Cal. Code Regs. §195)

Diverse panels promote the state’s mission to provide equal employment opportunity to potential examination candidates and reduce the risk of unconscious biases or discrimination in pre-employment decision-making. When assembling a QAP panel, examination/selections staff should take steps to ensure a well-balanced group of individuals who reflect the diversity of our state’s civil service workforce and possess an expertise level sufficient to examine potential candidates.

Examples of diversity include, but are not limited to:
- Age/Generational groups
- Gender
- Race/Ethnicity
- Disability
- Various program areas using the classification being tested

Where feasible, the department’s EEO Officer and the Examination Unit should collaborate to evaluate diversity prior to establishing the QAP panel.

How do I Monitor QAP Panel Composition? (CalHR Policy No. 1007)
The following is a shortened summary of how to monitor QAP panels. For the complete and detailed application of QAP panel monitoring, refer to CalHR Policy No. 1007:
 ✓ Obtain and review the examination plan and workforce demographics for the classification(s) tested and evaluate existing data to determine if an issue of underutilization exists for the classification.

 ✓ The examination plan is obtained from your department’s Human Resources office. Workforce demographic reports can be found on CalHR’s website. For any classification in which underutilization is identified, notify the Personnel Officer prior to the planning of further examination administration by QAP.

 ✓ Obtain each QAP panel composition from your department’s Examination Unit or Human Resources office and evaluate for diversity. If a panel lacks diversity, EEO officers should ascertain from the Examination Unit what steps were taken and/or consideration given to address the panel’s diversity.

 ✓ Report findings of each QAP conducted in writing to the department Director and Human Resources Officer, at minimum. Should the report identify issues of concern, the EEO Officer shall make recommendations in order to bring the QAP process into compliance with department and state EEO goals.

How do I document QAP Monitoring?
Departments may use the sample report format (Sample C) to document and report findings of oral examination panel composition or utilize their own process. When using their own process, departments are required to report on the subject areas contained within the sample format, and ensure they are appropriately captured and addressed.

When Should I Report Monitoring Activities?
At the conclusion of the Fiscal Year (FY), but no later than August 1, the EEO Officer prepares a report of findings for each QAP conducted in the course of the FY concerning its composition.

Research
As EEO Officers review the department’s annual examination plan and workforce demographic composition of each classification tested by QAP each FY, they may find the following tools helpful in understanding the examination administration schedule, the organization’s workforce make up and underutilizations of any protected group:

- Departmental Annual Examination Plan - A schedule of upcoming examinations that will be administered by a department during a calendar or fiscal year, including QAP.
- Departmental Annual Workforce Analysis Report - The Annual Workforce Analysis report allows identification of non-job related barriers that may contribute to discriminatory hiring practices associated with particular groups. The analysis also includes goal-setting to improve representation of persons with disabilities and ensure upward mobility for civil service employees who are qualified to move from low-paying positions into entry-level technical, professional or administrative positions.
- Utilization Analysis Report - The Utilization Analysis Report compares statistically significant underutilizations of race/ethnicity, and gender by occupational groups to state civil service classifications, and identifies significant deficiencies within the organization’s workforce.
The data helps departments gain an understanding of the race/ethnicity and gender make-up of the classification used in the department and to identify any underutilizations.

- Bottom Line Hiring Report - The Bottom Line Hiring Report is a tool used to determine if any phase of the examination process has an adverse impact on hiring or promotion of members of any race/ethnicity, gender, or persons with disabilities. The Bottom Line Hiring Report will assist the EEO Officer with determining if any adverse impact to a particular group exists at any phase of the examination process. The EEO Officer obtains a copy of the Bottom Line Hiring Report from the Examination Manager at the conclusion of the examination administration.

- Management Information Retrieval System (MIRS) - MIRS is a reporting system maintained by the State Controller’s Office and is used by departmental Human Resources (HR) staff to generate various reports related to employment history, position inventory, and certain employee demographic information. The EEO Officer may request HR staff to generate a MIRS report to identify QAP panel members’ ethnicity/race and gender.

Conclusion

Communication and consistency are key to successful departmental monitoring practices. CalHR recommends department EEO Offices collaborate with Examination Units to develop a review timeline that allows sufficient opportunity to establish well-planned QAP panels.

These guidelines include a checklist (Sample B) to guide EEO Officers through the process of research, monitoring and documentation along with a sample reporting format (Sample C) that can be used for documentation purposes. Additional resources are included to help departments review and verify panel composition as well as to survey demographics of QAP panels (Sample A). Use of the forms is not required.

>Subject: Report of QAP Panel Composition – FY 2017/18

All state agency Equal Employment Opportunity Officers are required by Government Code section 19795(a) to monitor the composition of departmental oral examination panels. I completed an analysis of all CalHR Qualifications Appraisal Panel (QAP) compositions for oral examinations conducted in FY 2017/2018.

Background:

Background should describe all research conducted based on Government Code Section 19795(a), identify QAP Policy # and relevant information/reports obtained from Human Resources Office or any other relevant source (including Examination Unit)

Example: Based upon Gov. Code. Section 19795(a) and CalHR Policy Number #, I reviewed our department’s Utilization Analysis report, Bottom Line Hiring report and Workforce Analysis to compile findings regarding CalHR’s oral panel examination compositions.

Identified Panel Compositions:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>QAP Examination Classification Title</th>
<th>Date of Examination</th>
<th>Description of Panel Composition</th>
<th>Composition was/was not Diverse</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>1. Accountant II</td>
<td>1/1/2017</td>
<td>1 Hispanic male over 40, 1 Native American male, 2 Asian females, 1 over 40 and 1 with a disability</td>
<td>Diverse</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2. Firefighter</td>
<td>2/1/2017</td>
<td>4 white males</td>
<td>Panel was not Diverse – see analysis</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3.</td>

<tr>
<td>4.</td>

</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Relevant Data Analysis:

Provide a statement regarding the relevant data reviewed and findings.

Analysis should state any underutilization history and provide an explanation if a panel does not include representation of a group for which focused outreach was conducted or in which the panel does not include groups that are significantly underutilized as identified in the workforce analysis. Where panel composition is not diverse, analysis should include justification.
Example:
The Utilization Analysis report reveals that there is an underutilization in Classifications 1 and 2 above in the area of white males.

- Panel 1 is sufficiently diverse.
- Panel 2 lacked diversity and this lack of diversity did not positively affect the underutilization statistics. The feeder classifications for this particular classification are (identified classification(s).) I reviewed the feeder class data to the Firefighter classification, and found no underutilization in these classifications. Efforts were made by the Examination unit to use female Subject Matter Experts and/or more diverse pool of panel members, however none were located for this particular examination administration. Efforts were made to include a Person with a Disability (PWD) on the panel, however no panel members self-disclosed a disability. Our department is over parity at 21.0%, thus this would not adversely affect the department’s parity numbers.

Conclusion

_Summarize and document conclusions and/or recommendations_

Recommendations

_Summarize recommendations to correct or mitigate further occurrences where panels are not diverse._
